RAF Blasts Germany's Big Chemical Center

REFUSES TO ACCEPT LEWIS'
OCT. 31 DATEWUPPERTAL IS TARGET OF 6TH
NIGHT OF RAIDS

Block Busters Rained on Huge German Industrial City; 33 Bombers Lost.

By The Associated Press
RAF bombers in great force attacked the German chemical center of Wuppertal in the Ruhr today, while in the Mediterranean the allies struck new at Sicily, Sardinia and Greece.

The British air ministry has declared a "great force" as sufficient to wipe out a city of 200,000 population in a single night.

Blowing their way through stiff Nazi aerial defenses and anti-aircraft fire, the big RAF blockbuster raiders unloaded hundreds of tons of bombs on such targets as the I. G. Farbenindustrie chemical works, the Jaeger roller-bearing plants and textile factories, the sixth consecutive night attack on the continent.

Meanwhile, a Berlin broadcast quoted Nazi Propaganda Minister Goebbels as asserting that the axis was keeping vigil "day and night" to meet an allied invasion of Europe.

Goebbels boasted, however, that there was "no comparison between fighting in North Africa or for Pantelleria and fighting for Europe."

Admit Bomb Have
The German high command, admitting the havoc inflicted by sited warplanes, said the RAF heaped destruction on Wuppertal and nearby Remscheid, site of important railway shops, and added:
"Losses among the populations of the towns attacked are heavy."

Wuppertal is the name for the town industrial cities of Elberfeld and Barmen on the Wupper river.
Wuppertal has 400,000 population.

Upwards of 1,500 tons of explosives were dropped on Barmen in an RAF raid on May 29 which virtually destroyed that sector.

Last night the attack was concentrated on Elberfeld, and an RAF communiqué announced that "from preliminary reports great damage appears to have been done."

Thirty-three RAF bombers were missing from the night's operations, making a six-day total of 133 allied bombers lost in the impetuous campaign to pulverize Adolf Hitler's Ruhr war factories.

In the Mediterranean, American four-engine bombers from the middle east raided the historic Greek port of Salonika for the first time, blasting the Sefes airbase and leaving three hangars in flames.

Salonika, a major port on the Aegean sea, has figured in Balkan speculation as a potential target for allied invasion forces. It has a peace-time population of 236,000.

Push Ruhr Offensive
The RAF carried its offensive against the Ruhr in a new peak in last night's bombing of Wuppertal, making a concentrated attack on important chemical and textile manufacturing plants there.

The night's operations, including assaults on other targets in the Ruhr and laying mines in enemy waters.

Heavy defensive activity was reported by the fliers who returned from the area, which Hitler has packed with anti-aircraft guns, searchlight batteries and flamethrowers in an effort to stave off the battering being given his heavy industries in the region.

The night raids followed a day of intense allied aerial activity in which 450 to 500 bombers and fighters hammered at Adolf Hitler's "Atlantic Wall" defenses from the Netherlands to France's Channel peninsula.

Among the targets of the daytime raiders were oil storage tanks at Flushing in the Netherlands, freight yards at St. Omer, France, and air bases at Fort Ruge, Abbeville and Maupertus.

The allied planes were said to have used the skies, as they rained over the continent, beating off the efforts of German fighters to break up their formation.

ELEVATOR CORN
TO BE SEIZEDWar Food Administration Acts To Provide Processors Serving War Effort.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, June 25—The war food administration has wired orders to U. S. district attorneys to take necessary steps to requisition elevator stocks of corn in 15 principal terminal markets for use by processors making essential war products.

Formal announcement was expected to be issued later today, after the attorneys had been given opportunity to serve papers on the affected elevator companies.

Requisitioning of such corn was decided upon after the WFA received complaints that persons owning grain were holding it for higher prices while many processing plants had been forced to close down because of the inability to purchase corn at the government's ceiling price.

The WFA will pay the ceiling price of $1.07 a bushel, Chicago basis, for the requisitioned corn.
The grain will be resold to processors at the same price.

Corn supplies secured by requisitioning elevator stocks are expected to be relatively small, official estimates placing the quantity in affected elevators at barely sufficient to supply processors for approximately two weeks.

Under consideration is a plan by which farmers would be paid a subsidy above the ceiling price for selling corn for use by processors.

The action reflects a growing light supply situation in corn and other livestock feeds. These products have been dwindling under the impact of a record number of livestock.

U. S. MAY ACQUIRE DISPUTED OIL LANDSCondemnation Urged by Justice Dept. for Elk Hills.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, June 25—The justice department recommended in a report made public today that the government acquire by condemnation proceedings the Standard Oil company of California's $146,000,000 interest in the Elk Hills, Cal., petroleum reserves.

The report, prepared by Assistant Attorney General Norman M. Little, was presented to the house public lands committee investigating the cancelled oil contract with the Navy department.

Little's report said what he has testified that the contract went "beyond" the Teapot Dome cases of the 20's.

Navy Secretary Knox abrogated the contract, which called for mutual development of the oil reserve, after the justice department ruled it "illegal and invalid."

Then, Knox said, condemnation proceedings probably were the best alternative.

U. S. BOMBERS

Pound Historic Salonika While 300 Other American Planes Work on Sardinia.

By The Associated Press
ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, June 25—U. S.
Ninth Air Force Liberators struck for the first time yesterday at the historic Greek port of Salonika from Middle East bases while about 300 American bombers and fighters of the northwest African command battered communications of Sardinia, 700 miles to the west, it was announced today.

Salonika is the historic invasion gateway to the Balkans in World War I.

Cairo communiques said more than 50 Liberators, attacking in two waves with more than 250-000 pounds of high explosives, scored direct hits on three hang-ars at the axis-occupied Sefes airfield of Salonika, leaving all of them in flames. Pilots saw explosives burst among administration buildings and on the field and dispersal areas.

"At least three enemy aircraft were destroyed on the ground and oil fires were started," one Middle East bulletin said. "None of our aircraft is missing from these and other operations."

Long Trip
(The attack upon Salonika, a possible objective of any Balkan invasion, involved a round trip of more than 1,000 miles across the Mediterranean.)

Enemy air fields, docks, shipping and an important railway junction of Sardinia were hampered by U. S. squadrons of Lieut. Gen. Carl A. Spaatz' air forces after RAF Wellingtons attacked Catania, in Sicily, the preceding night.

These raiders shot down 20 of the many enemy fighters encountered and an RAF Beaufighter bagged another to make the score 21. The allies lost nine planes.

Malta air squadrons also were active.

A Valletta communique announced that RAF planes attacked industrial installations at Pozzallo, Sicily, yesterday and similar targets at Augusta, Sicily, last night.

ASHLAND BLAST SPLITS EXPRESS CAR

Pictured above is the railway express car which figured in an explosion at Ashland Wednesday morning in which two men were killed and five others injured including Clarence Beck of 903 Maynard drive. Mr. Beck was returning home after making a run as an Erie trainman to Kent. The blast burst both ear drums. He also suffered a fractured jaw. The car pictured above was towed to Marion Thursday afternoon by an Erie wrecker train. Windows in homes, stores and factories within a radius of 800 feet of the Erie depot where the blast occurred were broken. Parts of the explosion-scattered express car were hurled several hundred feet.

Unprecedented Bombings Are Believed in Store for Italians

By The Associated Press
BOSTON, June 25—A prediction American and British airmen will give Italy "a hammering such as no country has ever received before" came today from Edward Kennedy, veteran Associated Press foreign correspondent, after a tour of war coverage unparalleled in the Middle Eastern and North African theaters.

Kennedy, sun-tanned, lean and hardened, holds a record as the only newspaperman who covered the Middle Eastern and North African wars from the time the first shot was fired by Italy in 1940 until the last German surrendered after Tunis and Birse-fell. He gave his views after returning on his first vacation since before the war.

Conditions are perfect for giving the Italians a terrific pasting from the air," he said. "The skies are so blue, with few clouds and no fog, that the amazing American bombight is operating with uncanny accuracy. Distances are short, enemy resistance is light and allied casualties are comparatively few. The United States air forces already have done a job of bombing that has been unequalled in all wars.

"In my opinion, the African campaign was not a second front.
It was a first front, for it kept the Mediterranean open, exposed the axis' Achilles heel—Italy—to attack, and established a shelf of aggression 2,500 miles long from which a death blow can be launched at the axis. A large, well-trained force is ready and they have terrific supplies."

Here are some of the thoughts of a war correspondent as he retraced a blood-stained route from Spain to the Balkans and the Middle East in an interview here:
"It was in Spain that I first saw the German 88 mm. gun.
And up until nine months ago it was the best gun in Africa."

"The American 90 mm. and 155 mm. guns changed all this. It was the 155's which pounded Matruh to pieces and really opened the gateway for the final American drive."

"After Spain, I went to Rome and was there when Mussolini announced he would not go into the war immediately. At that moment he reached the height of his popularity."

Two Former Marionites
Released from Hospital Two former Marion men who were taken ill suddenly in Canton Wednesday have been released from Canton hospital, according to word received here today.

They are Dwight L. Buchanan, 40, one-time city editor of The Star and now an official with the Hercules Motors Corp., and Charles Schwenlaub, 35, of Cleveland, an official of the Republic Steel Corp. loaned for the duration of the war production board.

The two men, along with 31 others, were stricken with food poisoning Wednesday afternoon following a luncheon at the exclusive Canton club. Canton health officials traced the poisoning to Boston cream pie which had been served at the luncheon.

Willkie's "One World"
To Start in Star Monday

Beginning next Monday The Star will bring its readers Wendell Willkie's amazing book, "One World." The 30,000 word manuscript has been condensed for newspaper publication into 10,000 words and will run in 10 installments to be followed by a final chapter just written by Mr. Willkie, in which he covers world developments since his book went to press.

No book published since the beginning of the war has gripped the public imagination as has "One World," in which Mr. Willkie tells of his recent trip to the United Nations war fronts and capitals in all parts of the world.

Traveling 31,000 miles in a continuous liberator bomber, operated by a crew of American army air force fliers, Mr. Willkie circled the globe. In "One World," he not only reports on this trip but gives a vivid picture of a world at war.

In the four corners of the earth he talked with prime ministers and kings, with farmers and soldiers, factory workers and liberarians and in "One World" he tells what these people have told him they are fighting for and what kind of a world they hope for after the war.

Willkie declared in his book

ANTI-STRIKE
DEADLINE NEAR;
VETO EXPECTED

Roosevelt Must Act Today or Let Bill Become Law
at Midnight.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, June 25—President Roosevelt was confronted today with one of the most vexing decisions of his crowded career.

He had until midnight to act on the anti-strike bill which was rushed through congress at the height of the recent coal strike.

The measure, penalizing union leaders who support in any way a strike against the government, was denounced by the heads of the American federation of labor, the congress of industrial organizations, and the railroad brotherhood.

This bill, its backers said, was the only way to forestall another coal strike while the government is operating the mines—a war emergency condition.

Mr. Roosevelt had two courses open. He could veto it, or do nothing at all in which case the bill automatically would become law.

Veto Anticipated
Most congressional quarters looked for a veto. They based their idea on the President's answer to the coal controversy—a request for broader draft laws.

Mr. Roosevelt served notice on the miners that selective service had set up machinery to induct them for non-combat duty in the event of any new walkout. He said he would ask congress to include all age brackets up to 65 years. His proposal however was frowned on by leaders of both house and senate as an inadequate substitute to the anti-strike measure.

Another grave question connected with the coal situation seemed headed too for the President's desk. The war labor board asserted it would not be satisfied with the strike settlement until the United Mine Workers and the operators had signed a formal contract, within the WLB's terms.

The WLB, it was said, was prepared to take this ultimatum to the White House in a day or two for official backing.

Knox in Testify
On Capitol Hill, attention centered on the appearance of Navy Secretary Knox before the house naval and public lands committees. He was summoned to explain further details of the abrogated deal with Standard Oil of California for development of the Elk Hills reserves.

The embattled office of war information gained some support in the senate after the house decided OWA's entire domestic bureau should be cut off without funds.

Members of the appropriations committee discussed a compensation, leaving the OWA's "news room" intact though knocking out domestic and foreign propaganda activities.

Another beleaguered agency, the national youth administration, got a rough reception in the senate. The appropriations committee by a bare majority stamped approval on house action scrapping the NYA by the end of this year.

SENATOR ATTACKS TAX
STICKERS FOR AUTOS
Declares 35 Levy Unfair in View of Driving Ban.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, June 25—Senator Moad (D-N.Y.) today labeled the annual 35 cent tax on automobiles a "pay-as-you-don't-go plan," at least for eastern motorists, and said he would ask the treasury to consider enforcement until Congress decides whether the law should be repealed.

The new stickers are supposed to be on the windshields of all cars and trucks operated after next Wednesday, but the postal employees entrusted with their sale have decided that the only way to start them moving would be to ration them like shoes. In other words, business has not been good.

Several eastern lawmakers agreed with Moad that taxation without transportation is going to be pretty hard to explain to their foot-weary constituents.

GUERRILLAS OF SEA HIT AXISGreek Bands Give Enemy New Troubles in Balkan Area, Raiding Ships.

By The Associated Press
STOCKHOLM, June 25—Sea-going Greek guerrillas have given the invasion-conscious axis new cause for worry in the Balkans, it was disclosed today.

Photographs published in Illier's own newspaper, the Voei-kischer Beobachter, and the German magazine Die Woche illustrated how the axis is combating guerrillas whom the Germans described as "pirates" operating in small sailing and motor boats against axis merchant ships in the Aegean.

For more than a year well-organized Greek and Yugoslav patriot, striking from hideouts in the wild Balkan mountains, have been reported steadily draining axis resources at land, but this was the first indication they had taken to the sea.

The Nazis employ heavily armed patrol boats and reconnaissance seaplanes to hunt the sea guerrillas.

Retribution Shown
The photographs purported to show axis retribution against one "pirate" nest—a small village bordering the Aegean. One picture showed a seaside village alight with fire set by incendiary and explosive shells.

Native vessels that attempt to elude the axis patrol boats are shelled, it was asserted.

The situation thus revealed was viewed here as testifying to increasing nervousness of the axis in seeking to detect and guard against any allied invasion thrust against the Balkans.

Allied Forces Nearby
It is known British and Indian forces have been concentrated on the eastern Mediterranean island of Cyprus, and axis sources recently reported the arrival of American troops there.

WLB Statement
The WLB in a brief statement late yesterday said the labor dispute had been determined finally when it directed the 521,000 strikers to accept substantially the terms of the 1941-42 contract, plus a few WLB concessions that added up to pay raises of about 20 cents a day. Hence, the board figured a new contract on that basis should be signed.

This stand was announced after Interior Secretary Ickes, government operator of the mines, had referred in summoning owners to a conference today to the controversy between the mine workmen and the operators, and expressing hope it would be settled speedily.

Immediately the WLB shot back that it had made the final determination of the dispute, and as

Meanwhile, WLB Makes Stern Request for Byrnes To Enforce Its Order.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, June 25—President Roosevelt said today he would not recognize or accept an Oct. 31 deadline set by the United Mine Workers for continued coal production in government-operated mines.

The Chief Executive told a press conference he was merely trying to see that coal was mined and this had to be done some way. He added that many of us get away from the fact we are at war and the life of a nation is very much at stake.

The war labor board went to war mobilization director James F. Byrnes today with a stern request the government compel the United Mine Workers to comply fully with the board's order or that punishment be imposed.

Board members told Byrnes the country's largest corporations U. S. Steel (in the federal shipbuilding case) and General Motors, however reluctantly, but that in the coal case only the operators have been penalized. Their mines have been seized although they are ready to obey the WLB.

U. S. Steel (in the federal shipbuilding case) and General Motors,
however reluctantly, but that in
the coal case only the operators
have been penalized. Their mines
have been seized although they
are ready to obey the WLB.

Want Contract Signed Full compliance would mean the signing of a two-year contract containing a pledge not to strike for the duration of the war. The contract handed down by the board would permit reopening of the wage claims in the interim but otherwise it is the 1941-43 Appalachian agreement plus some concessions such as higher vacation payments, and free tools and equipment.

WLB members said penalties against the miners were not intended but the union, as such, should be brought to book for refusal. The penalties might take the form of a suspension of the ditch check-off or freezing of the UMW treasury.

The board also made plain it has finally determined the controver between the miners and the operators and all that remains is a matter of enforcement.
This was taken to mean that retroactive liabilities against the operators are no longer accurate, unless, of course, the miners successfully in court for portual-pay under the wage and hour law.

The WLB demand for Lewis' signature on a contract pointed out the long-standing difference in outlook between its members and Secretary Ickes, the only government agent Lewis has recognized as having any authority. Ickes is the boss of the mines under federal operation.

Doubtful About WLB Demands Ickes told reporters he could see no way to make any "private individual or group" sign an agreement and when asked if he favored a law that would compel them to do so, expressed doubt that any legislative body would pass one or that it would be constitutional.

Title demand for signing of a formal contract apparently was intended to demonstrate full recognition of the WLB's authority.

Without that recognition, the board would have little standing, for it was set up only by executive order—not legislation—and has no plenary power except what President Roosevelt would exercise for it.

John L. Lewis and his United Mine Workers, however, reckon they're working for the government, not the operators. Under the government's conditions, Lewis said, the men would work until Oct. 31, though the back-to-work movement has been slow and production still is spotty.

FARM LABOR STILL PROBLEM

State Highway Department Tractor Work Now Nearly Completed.

By MAX HILL.

Although Marion county farmers are still faced with a serious labor shortage, they have some consolation in the fact that the work of the state highway department on county roads is almost being completed.

At present, county agricultural extension agents, reported today that only two more farms require the tractors to finish plowing.

The county agent commended the farmers for their excellent cooperation in using the highway tractors. He said that with the equipment and labor shortage like it was and is in the county, farmers deserve praise for their perseverance and integrity.

On the labor front, G. E. Barks, special county labor assistant to Mr. Smith, has been busy the past week with several more calls for part-time and full-time workers.

In response to the calls, he obtained several more schoolboys for mostly full time jobs.

Marion business men or other city volunteer workers have registered with Mr. Barks or Mr. Smith. Many of these men could be used on county farms and if they desire to register they should contact Mr. Smith or Mr. Barks.

The county agricultural extension office in the basement of the post office building will be open tonight from 8 to 10 o'clock.

Boys of junior high and high school are secured for farm positions so far have shown that they were not quite capable of handling heavy farm tasks. According to their employers they have been too immature and inexperienced to do any farm chores on a large scale. The youthful laborers have, however, aided farmers considerably in lighter tasks and vegetable and fruit farming.

County farmers are considering themselves fortunate in regard to strawberry picking this year. Confronted with seemingly insurmountable labor obstacles, the farmers nevertheless, have finished berry picking this season with hardly any loss of the fruit. Boy Scouts came to the rescue of the perplexed farmers by donating their services toward strawberry picking.

The state office of the extension system has informed Mr. Smith that there is foreign labor available at any time he wishes it. Negro workers from Jamaica in the West Indies have completed fruit gardening in Michigan and are now free to work on any farm. Native-American Japanese can also be acquired for Marion county farms, the state office told Mr. Smith. However, the county agent does not believe that farmers in this section would desire to have any foreign laborers. The reason for this is that these workers are not adapted to large crop farming done in Marion county and usually are not trained to operate large machinery.

One exception to the foreign labor situation is the case of a farmer who does tomato farming near Meeker. He has employed a Mexican family to operate his tomato farm. The family, earlier this year, had been doing sugar beet farming in Hardin county.

BRICKER CANDIDACY INDICATIONS MOUNT Ohio Governor Silent; State G.O.P. Indorsement Forecast.

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., June 25.—Gov. John W. Bricker isn't saying whether he will seek the Republican nomination for president, but indications he would be a candidate mounted today.

An administration spokesman who requested anonymity said the Republican state committee would meet "within six weeks to indorse Bricker formally" for president.

The report served to emphasize the governor's observation to an interviewer he might speak out on national and international questions this fall and winter in a series of addresses.

The governor left last night for Milwaukee to address a meeting of the Wisconsin Bar association amid indications he would be more specific in his advocacy of United States participation in post-war world readjustment.

The governor has been criticized in some quarters for reticence in answering a definite stand on issues regarded as worthy of the attention of a potential presidential candidate.

Before departing for Milwaukee, the governor reiterated that Ohio "may support him as its favorite son at the party's 1944 convention."

Bricker in his interview committed himself unmistakably for American participation in an international organization to preserve peace once the war is won.

far as it was concerned, there wasn't any controversy.

District officials of the United Mine Workers today promised normal operations "about next Monday."

60 Per Cent Idle
A survey disclosed approximately 60 per cent of the 521,000 coal diggers and loaders remained out yesterday, the first day after they received the first order. Reports from last night's shifts, in the Pennsylvania fields at least, indicated little material change in this average absenteeism.

The eastern Pennsylvania anthracite region reported that 6,500 men in collieries of the Shenandoah area who worked yesterday voted to stay out today. This was offset by the vote of the three largest locals in Lackawanna county to return to work. An Associated Press survey indicated 39,000 of the 63,000 hard coal miners were idle yesterday.

At Bellaire, O., Adolph Pacifico, vice president of District 6, United Mine Workers, said he would meet today with union field representatives in an attempt to induce complete return of Ohio's coal miners to the pits.

Unionists in at least 10 eastern Ohio mines employing about 8,000 men voted yesterday not to resume work.

One official estimated only about 15 per cent of the 9,000 miners in eastern Ohio had returned to their jobs, and Hoeking valley reports indicated only half the workers there had gone back. Ohio has about 21,000 coal miners. Eight of 17 mines in the Athens district were operating today with about 2,500 men on the job out of 5,000 employed normally.

"ONE WORLD"

Mr. Wilkie declares there are no distant points in the world any longer. "Our thinking in the future must be worldwide," he says.

This conclusion is based on Wilkie's discovery that although the people of many of the countries he visited spoke a strange language, they are fighting for the same ideals and the same freedom we are fighting for.

He found the same hope for peace in their hearts Americans pray for. "One World" will give readers a better idea of why the last peace failed. It points to the dangers of another peace failure.

Mr. Wilkie gives his plan for forming a better society now.

Since it hit the news stands "One World" has broken all sales records.

This week the Star obtained syndicate rights for the publication of the condensed text. Busy war-time readers will find the daily installments skillfully and interestingly prepared.

Chief targets at Elberfeld are the I. G. Farbenindustrie chemical works, the Jaeger plants that turn out roller bearings, and a number of textile factories.

Last night's raid, accomplished on a moonless night, marked the fifth consecutive night the RAF has struck either Germany or Italy—with the most paralyzing blows falling on the vital Ruhr area.

It was the sixth night of a powerful offensive which included the first great daylight assault by United States bombers on the Ruhr, an assault which set ablaze the important German synthetic rubber plant at Huls.

It was pointed out by the spectacular round-trip RAF bombing raid between bases in England and North Africa.

The German radio declared that eight allied planes were lost in day light attacks on German-occupied territory yesterday.

RAF fighters prowling over western Europe during the night harassed enemy air bases and shot down at least one German plane over an airfield in the Netherlands.

UNCERTAINTY TO CONTINUE FOR DADS

No Official Settling of Draft Doubts Expected Soon.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Draft uncertainty for fathers of sons in the service public and congressional pressure, don't expect the official word to be laid on the table any time soon as far as drafting the nation's pre-World War fathers and sons is concerned.

That was the comment today by D. C. Speaker, unofficial but well-informed capital news source, who noted the demand of the country's military committee that the country's dads be relieved of their uncertainty.

"Of course I'm not official," said D. C. Speaker, unofficial but well-informed capital news source, who noted the demand of the country's military committee that the country's dads be relieved of their uncertainty.

WHAT HAPPENED TO FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

AFTER SEVEN WEEKS OF Intensive work, laboratory researchers have discovered the reason why certain batches of Fletcher's Castoria caused nausea.

Methods of preventing a recurrence of the trouble are now known and manufacture is being resumed.

No Fletcher's Castoria has been made during this seven-week period, and at its beginning the makers issued a nationwide warning to consumers and retailers not to use or sell the product and to return all stocks for destruction.

The U. S. Food and Drug Administration has been kept informed of all these developments.

Q. What caused the trouble?

The sugar content of Fletcher's Castoria was reduced to conserve sugar under wartime conditions. A year ago, Castoria was made with this reduced sugar content and was up to standard in every respect. This year, in March, we again started production with reduced sugar.

However, at that time a chemical change—harmless in itself—occurred in the characteristics of the water used in making Castoria. But this change, in combination with the reduced sugar, increased the degree and rate of normal fermentation. The more rapid fermentation retarded normal re-oxidation during the ageing process, resulting in a product which caused nausea.

Q. Why didn't normal tests show that something was wrong?

The changes which occurred were so elusive that they could not be detected by the regular testing procedures—procedures which had kept Castoria a respected product for more than seventy-five years. In fact, even after the nauseating effect was discovered in actual use, it took weeks of laboratory research to identify the factors that were causing the trouble.

Q. What are the makers doing to prevent a recurrence of the trouble?

Now that the cause is known, procedures have been put in effect which will assure normal re-oxidation of the product. Additional safeguards have been set up. New laboratory controls have been installed. New biological and chemical tests will be applied to every batch of Fletcher's Castoria. Each bottle will be stamped with a plainly visible control number, in verification of these tests.

Q. Is Fletcher's Castoria now on sale?
A.

No. Manufacture has been resumed, but because of the time required for manufacture and distribution it may be about two months before Castoria will again be on sale at your retailer's. When it is, you will be notified in your local newspaper.

Q. Will the package be the same?

No. The Fletcher's Castoria now being made will bear a distinctive green band. This green band is for your protection in case any old Castoria has not been returned.

Guessing When War Ends Today's Favorite Pastime

By GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., June 15.—A favorite pastime in many nations today is guessing when the war will come to an end.

Even members of congress have recently taken a liking at it. A poll conducted by Representative Earl Wilson, Republican of Indiana.

While no one, not even military authorities, can do much more than guess, millions of people may be planning their lives with reference to their own views on how long the war will last.

The Institute has just received results of polls completed in the past few days in Canada and Britain on the length of the war, and has completed tabulations of its most recent survey in which a cross-section of the American young population was asked this question.

"How much longer do you think the war with Germany will last, with Japan?"

A comparison of opinion in three countries with that of congressmen reveals that the United States congress is most optimistic about the war ending by the end of this year.

Grouping opinion in Canada, Britain and America roughly one person in every ten believes the war with Germany will be over before the first of the year, with people in England slightly more optimistic than those here or in Canada.

The actual percentage of congressmen who in Representative Wilson's poll, think the war will be over before January, is 16 per cent. In Britain the public's vote is 14 per cent, in Canada, 19 per cent, in the United States, 16 per cent.

However, in the United States and in Canada, the members of Congress are in close agreement of their guesses as to when the war will end.

In the United States, the average of the 40 per cent of the war will end before the year from now in the public and two years from now in the congress is 40 per cent.

Similar questions on the length of the war were taken from congressmen in a position to obtain special information, of a former prisoner of war, a former prisoner of war, a former prisoner of war.

Pitfalls of Love

By ADELE GARRISON

DICKY LOOKED from my flushed face to Katharine's mischievous one, and a light of unholy glint, all too familiar to me, came into his eyes.

"Ah!" he said, "I spell the plot thickening, also two, three, maybe five mice. Come clean, Katharine, tell Papa the joke. He needs one."

But Katharine shook her head obstinately.

"The party tomorrow has nothing to do with me," she said. "It's Olin's, and the Wilderness Woman's—the chief thinks she's the impersonator, as he believes Steve Redfield to be the forger of the note. I have no part in it whatever."

"But Midge has," Dicky said, "else there'd be no reason for that crack you just made."

"Midge will tell you," Katharine said decisively, while behind Dicky's back, I shook my fist at her, and threatened dire things with frowning brows.

Then I straightened my brows and dropped my hand just in time to present a comparatively unruffled front to Dicky as he swung round facing me.

"And now, little lass with laughter on your lips," he paraphrased, "I'm ready to hear your confession. You've got one, I can see. What are you keeping from me?"

"Nothing of any importance," I said, carefully making my voice as casual as I could. "It's simply that Father wants me to be near Olin every minute of the time that she's in that upper corridor. Of course Ruth Hays knows me, and—"

My voice trailed away, and Dicky slapped his knee.

"And that means Dad has decreed that you must be in evidence, yet disguised," he guessed. "What's your role going to be, a cigarette girl, or an elevator operator?"

"Nothing so romantic," I told him.

"No, neither of those would do," he agreed, then added with dancing eyes: "There's only one thing left. Don't tell me you're going to be a chambermaid!"

"Go to the head of the class!" I ordered with far more bravado than I felt, for he was looking at me with dancing eyes in which there was mischief which I knew would find an outlet.

"Do you know, I think you'd make a very goodlooking chambermaid," he said. "With a pretty little cap atop your still lustrous locks, and an apron to match tied around your shapely figure, you'd have your points, my girl. I might even make a magazine cover of you. (What do you say, Katharine?)"

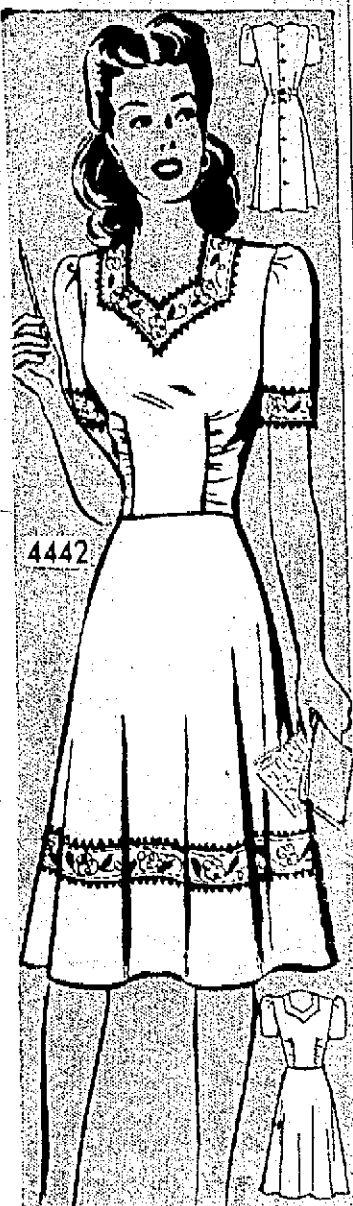

"Before he goes into any more rhapsodies, Midge," Katharine advised dryly, "you'd better tell him what Dad has planned for you."

"And what I'll do to you when I get a good chance!" I threatened darkly. Then I turned resolutely to Dicky.

"If I were Mary, I'd tell you to go ahead and laugh your fool head off!" I said tartly. "Now here's the great secret. Dad is going to have me take a room at the hotel tomorrow morning at eight."

NEEDLEWORK PATTERN

A fresh, colorful design for your table linens—cloth and scarfs—with smaller napkin motifs to match. in the dam, and I like to live in a world of law and order.

Another less economical spectacle, and one which I think involves a large limit on when a certain ration stamp can be used. The American housewife who is naturally a thrifty soul finds herself Saturday with a whole page of stamps which will be useless Monday. So she proceeds to market, buys a number of things she does not immediately need and with the help of others like her cleans out all the grocery stores and markets, so that even the cockroaches are feeling a depression.

On the whole from the standpoint of a nutritionist, in spite of the fluctuating announcements, I cannot see that anyone is really suffering from malnutrition, and in many cases there is evidence that changes of dietary habits are beneficial.

I do not believe from the study of such authoritative surveys as I have been able to obtain that the diversion of food to civilian populations of other lands threatens to impose any deleterious effects on the American people. The severest criticism of the Surplus Commodities Corporation which I have read concludes that at one time the corporation had stored enough food to supply a full month's ration of 48 points for half a million people. And that is not serious, because the stores were not perishable and will be used somewhere, sometime.

Still and all, during an Administration based upon Jeffersonian principles, we can recall with satisfaction, for postwar purposes, the words of the Great Decentralizer that "if it were left to Washington to tell us when to plow and plant and reap, we would all starve."

The Stars Say—

For Saturday, June 25

THIS DAY'S supplies are generally propitious and encouraging for the affairs of business, social, domestic and affectional relations, but with one outstanding admonition: "Haste makes waste not only in financial expenditure but in squandering physical energies or emotional forces. Attempt to force issues in any direction might be penalized and bring reactions on funds, happiness and personal harmony and progress."

Those whose birthday it is may be confronted by a year of definite prospects of rapid growth and exceptional progress and opportunity, but too eager and extravagant grasp of such openings might create reverse action.

A child born on this day should have splendid abilities and energies, with opportunity and support for success and his personal life. If it will curb extravagant and indulgent tendencies.
